

Some games can't be won and you have to play for a draw instead.

The game is lost for black. Can black find a way to draw?

In the above position, white can queen the a pawn. It is unstoppable. All black can do is find a way to draw the game, i.e. black must move the king and its h pawn in such a way that they bring about a stalemate.

The game is lost for White. Can White find a way to draw?

In the above position, White must try for a perpetual check to draw the game. Give it a go!
